FLOORING

A new floor enhances lighting, appearance and productivity. By enhancing and maintaining your facility, you communicate to employees and visitors that your company is quality oriented. Preferred has been setting the standard in commercial and industrial maintenance since 1972, and is recognized on a National level.

To achieve these standards, we employ technicians whose experience, knowledge and ongoing training go to work for you in interpreting your needs and installing the floor that best suits your environment.

Flooring Technology is changing rapidly and low odor, fast curing epoxies, urethanes and cementitious overlays are dominant in flooring market. The ability to combine these products with proper aggregates and additives is vital to the protection and longevity of your investment. Through extensive research, technology and training, PREFERRED has refined these developments to meet your specific flooring requirements.

| FLOORING PROCESS

Regardless of the flooring system you consider, the most critical decision is the contractor you choose. To achieve our goal of complete customer satisfaction, we focus on these three areas:

- Determining your specific needs as dictated by your environment.
- Specifying and installing the type of system that best meets those desires and expectations.
- Following up to ensure the system meets your standards as well as our own.
